We are thrilled to announce RMRA is officially on Prospect, the groundbreaking new app from The Vurb Company designed to unite the sport of motocross! If you've ever felt frustrated bouncing between outdated track websites, digging through social media for open practice dates, or scrambling to find race results, this platform is the solution we've all been waiting for. Prospect was built from the ground up to eliminate the digital clutter, bringing riders, tracks, events, and news together into one centralized hub that strengthens our racing community.

Live Timing • Lap Time Breakdowns • Upcoming Events • Results • Track Map • National Rider Ranking • Rider Stats • Trophy Case • Follow Riders • More

For our racers and families, this means your entire weekend experience is about to get a massive upgrade. Through the Prospect app, you'll have a single, reliable place to find local events, follow live timing, and track race results, rider rankings, and seasonal progression without the usual guesswork. We are proud to integrate our series into a platform that puts the riders first. Be sure to download Prospect today to stay connected, track your performance, and experience the next evolution of motocross right from your phone.

RMRA HEADS NORTH: HIGH STAKES AND FULL THROTTLE IN CHEYENNE!

BY: SOMMER STREET, MONEY INC & RMRA BOARD MEMBER

The battle lines are officially drawn. On June 6-7, the Rocky Mountain Riders Association (RMRA) packed up and headed north to Cheyenne, Wyoming, for Round 5 of the highly competitive MX series. Hosted at the fan-favorite Laramie County Riders Association (LCRA) MX Park, the weekend delivered high-octane racing, critical championship shifts, and unforgettable community vibes.

With only a few gate drops left in the MX season, the intensity on the track reached a fever pitch as racers fought tooth and nail for every single point.

Why Riders Love LCRA

There is a reason LCRA MX Park always draws a crowd. The track is legendary for its flawless flow and unique design, making it both highly rideable and incredibly fun for every bike size on the gate. But don't let the fun fool you—it is a technical rider's paradise.

As one RMRA racer put it:

"The layout of the track is sick, and it has numerous lines to pass—making it a fun and competitive track!"

That flexibility in passing lines meant that no lead was safe, and every corner was an opportunity for a dramatic takeover.

Inside the Moto Battles

Competition was fierce across the board, but a few standout riders completely dominated their classes:

Supermini (12-16 yrs): Cole Massa put on a clinical performance, going 1-1 on the weekend to take the top spot. Behind him, Max Williams and Nicklis Koory went bar-to-bar in a thrilling, down-to-the-wire battle to round out the podium.

125cc B/C (12+): Deegan Miller was unstoppable, executing a flawless sweep of both motos. Ayden Calvillo and Alexander Vigil rode hard to secure their second and third-place podium finishes.

Vet 30+ A: Experience and grit were on full display as Joey Olson finished strong with a perfect 1-1 moto score. Brandon McGray and Bryan Sabbaugh pushed the pace but had to settle for the remaining podium spots.

More Than Just Racing: Moto Church & Pit Fun

Once the engines cooled down after Saturday's practice, the real trackside community came alive. The Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA) hosted Moto Church, then families and racers traded their dirt bikes for human power, participating in hilarious handlebar races and high-energy BMX races. It was the perfect reminder of why the RMRA circuit is a giant racing family.

38TH ANNUAL PIKES PEAK SUPERCROSS AT NORRIS PENROSE EVENT CENTER

BY: MATT SCHOENECKER, 5280 MOTO MEDIA

What an EPIC event for the 38th Annual Pikes Peak Supercross! As always, Black Diamond Promotions put together a great day of action! This year however, there was a little change up to the schedule. In years past a freestyle crew has shown up to put on a show.

This year, Black Diamond Promotions invited Ronnie Mac! It was a treat to see everyone's faces light up while meeting him and watching him ride. Our very own Davey Gonzales made an appearance to help Will Sequino announce during the main show.

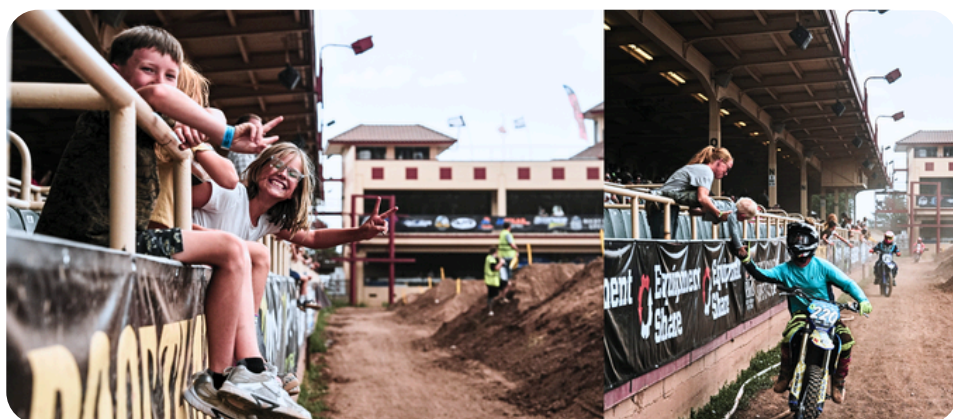

Will and Davey's personality and experience brought an extra element for those listening in the stands. Recently, Will had the opportunity to announce during the Nationals the week prior in Lakewood. What an amazing experience; I can remember just how nervous he was to announce last year's awards banquet. It's great to see him progress as an announcer.

Ronnie Mac's presence was loved by all!

COLE MASSA (84) AND JAYDEN SMEDLEY (23) PUT ON A SHOW AT PPSX

EXCITED FANS WAIT TO HIGH-FIVE RACERS EXITING THE TRACK

One of my personal favorites at Pikes Peak Supercross is the return road for riders after the race. Riders cross over the finish line jump and then head back along the north side of the stands. There is always a perfect opportunity for family and friends who are willing to put a hand out to get a high five! What a memorable experience for young fans!

The rider count this year was awesome; it was awesome to see so many gates filled with talented and hungry riders.

The Open Pro A class was stacked with competition. Cain Larson took first, making the trip from Ashland, WI worth every mile. John Short, from Aubrey, TX, was mixing it up too, and finished second. Hunter Schlosser, from El Paso, TX, rounded out the top three.

Todd Bannister was having a great run until his chain snapped while going through the whoops, forcing an unfortunate end to his night. Todd is a beast, though, and is starting to recover from his injuries and is in good spirits!

Supercross, obviously, is different from motocross in more ways than just the track layout. Supercross runs a morning and afternoon program, but the stands don't really begin to fill in until the main events are close to kicking off. During the morning action, the majority of cheers come from fellow racers, friends, and family. I happened to witness an epic battle in the School Boy 1 class between Cole Massa and Jayden Smedley, with Smedley taking the win in the main.

RMRA's own Thunder Valley MX Park roared to life on June 13, 2026, as AMA Pro Motocross stormed into Lakewood, Colorado—and the RMRA made sure everyone knew we were there. Fans pouring through the gates of vendor row couldn't miss our high-energy vendor booth, proudly staffed by RMRA Board Members Aaron Kibler (President), Chris Longwell (Vice President), Ashley Kibler (Secretary), and committee member Amanda Nelson. The booth was buzzing nonstop, thanks in part to a miniature toy dirtbike track that became an instant magnet for kids. Laughter, tiny bikes flying off jumps, and wide-eyed future racers made it one of the day's most memorable attractions.

And RMRA wasn't just making noise off the track—our athletes were lighting it up on race day. RMRA's pro women riders brought serious fire to the AMA WMX series, showcasing grit, speed, and undeniable talent. Lauren Volentir, Jenna Jansen, and Ashley Anderson charged into Thunder Valley determined to make their mark, proving once again that Colorado's finest women aren't just competing—they're pushing the sport forward with every lap.

THE RMRA BOOTH AT THUNDER VALLEY MX NATIONAL, JUNE 13

Our men's pro lineup delivered their own adrenaline-packed performances, showing up in force and battling through one of the toughest circuits on the schedule. All of which are current or legacy RMRA members, and we couldn't be more proud! They were determined to lay down their own tire tracks on one of the toughest, most altitude-punishing circuits in the series. The competition was fierce, the stakes sky-high, and our athletes delivered everything they had.

RMRA's 2025 Kevin Hall Grand Champion awardee, Bronson McClure, charged his way through qualifying to line up with the nation's top 250cc riders, throwing down gritty, fearless laps against the nation's best.

In the 450cc class, RMRA's 2024 Kevin Hall Grand Champion awardee, Jorge Rubalcava, muscled his way into the gate for the second moto, proving once again that RMRA riders don't back down when the pressure hits.

THE 2024 RMRA KEVIN HALL GRAND CHAMPION AWARDEE, JORGE RUBALCAVA.

DID YOU CATCH US AT THE PRO NATIONAL?

And even for those who battled through the LCQs to the very end, the effort was nothing short of heroic. Every Colorado pro rider fought to the final flag—bar-to-bar, heart-to-heart, refusing to let up until the very last chance was gone.

From the vendor booth excitement to the adrenaline on the track, RMRA Promoter, David Clabaugh and his team ensured that for another historical year, Thunder Valley was a showcase of Colorado pride, passion, and pure motocross grit. If June 13 proved anything, it's that Colorado riders and fans bring an energy all their own—and the motocross world is paying attention!

HEAT, DUST, GRIT— ROUND TWO OF THE SUPERCROSS SERIES

by Matt Schoenecker, 5280 Moto Media

Twisted Grip Productions put on a great day of racing out in Keenesburg. The Sharp family are always great hosts! The day started off hot and dry! Everyone was feeling the heat, especially the competitors. Fortunately, the grandstands provided relief for a lot of fans—giving much-needed shade heading into the afternoon program.

As opening ceremonies kicked off, the crowd faced the flag on Performance Equipment's Terra Mac. Lauren Stoltzfus sang the National Anthem, with scattered clouds across a big blue sky and farmland in the background; there really isn't a better way to kick off supercross action in farm country!

BRADY SHARP, REV LIMIT PROMOTIONS

Brady Sharp was entertaining on the mic., as always. Between his creative nicknames and ability to coach his kids while announcing and running the race...he is a man of many skills! I think I speak for everyone in saying that we are looking forward to having him at the Greeley Supercross in August for more race calling.

KENNEDY SHARP (63)

BRODY BALLEW (49) LEADS TRAVIS HEAD (42)

So many battles on the track!

Many riders were out of state chasing other races, but that didn't mean there was a lack of action out at Keenesburg! In the 250B class, Brody Ballew and Travis Head gave the crowd a show with action in both their heat race and the main. These two kept everyone on their toes!

Ballew ended up taking home the win in the 250B class with Head taking second. Rounding out the podium was Trevor Frans.

BRODY BALLEW (49) SOARS TO VICTORY IN 250B

The action in the Open Pro A class was just as intense, as Jeremiah Willoughby and Jace Hinrichs rode two solid motos! Hinrichs has been making appearances at the outdoor nationals. It's awesome to see him and other RMRA experts make the next step in their racing careers. The competition at the pro level is fierce; the experience must be invaluable! Willoughby took first, Hinrichs was second, and Ryan Boutilier secured third.

Everyone will be looking forward to seeing more battles unfold at the next round of supercross in Greeley, CO on August 22. Until then, it's back to Thunder Valley Motocross Park for the next two rounds of MX. These races will be clutch for collecting points before that series concludes at the Championship race in October.

SAFETY REMINDERS

Members! To keep this season operating safely, please do your part to ensure these rules—most commonly reiterated at rider meetings—are upheld.

- Minors can only participate in racing events if both of their legal parents or guardians have properly signed and submitted an AMA minor release form, which has been checked and approved.
- Abusive, aggressive, or disrespectful behavior towards any staff member, vendor, sponsor, or others will not be tolerated and may lead to the disqualification of the rider associated with the individual.
- Dogs must be on a leash. Please pick up after them.
- Yellow Flag: When a yellow flag is displayed, racers must ride cautiously until they have passed the incident that caused the flag. There is no passing, gaining an advantage, or jumping between the flag and the incident that caused the yellow flag. Failure to do so will result in loss of 5 positions or disqualification.
- Red Cross Flag: Indicates that safety vehicles or emergency medical personnel may be on the course. Racers must show extreme caution, slow down, maintain position, not gain an advantage, and not jump between the flag and the incident. Failure to do so will result in loss of 10 positions or disqualification.
